

I-95 Construction Engineering and Inspection - East Haven, CT

The project involves construction engineering and inspection services for I-95, East Haven to Lake Saltonstall, Connecticut. GCS is responsible for performing construction survey services for this project. This work is providing roadway improvements on the east approach to the “Q” Bridge. The combine total construction costs of all the project associated with the “Q” Bridge exceed $1 billion.

The major tasks of the project include:

- Construction inspection services
- Construction survey, as-built drawings, quantity estimates, and office engineering
- Survey responsibilities include establishment and maintenance of vertical and horizontal control, quality control for contractor survey stake-out, and analysis and interpretation of baselines and working points